

Super Bowl Winners

Center, left to right, pool winners: John Podkowsky, Bob Riith, Joe Spain. Not present Tom Dunn. Event organizers, far left, Bill Bellis, far right, John Barston.

Photo by Gregory Glashan

President's Message

Periodically, John Podkowsky arranges luncheons for new members and a few officers. I had the pleasure of attending one such luncheon in January. It began with each person introducing himself, typically talking about his family and career. That was true again, but this time, the new members also chose to talk about the DMA activities in which they participate. This increased involvement in the club's activities is one indication of a greater sense of enthusiasm among our members. Our usual pattern is that each year we gain about 25 new members and lose about 25, thus membership stays about the same. But this year, our new members have introduced more guests, which already has yielded 27 new members, with three months yet to go. Perhaps more surprisingly, only 12 of last year's members did not renew their membership. This 95% renewal rate is good for any organization but particularly so for one with an average age of 75+. I am told that we have not seen so many new members or such a high renewal rate in any recent year. And this is at a time when some of our sister clubs are facing declining membership. Another surprising statistic: This year, we reduced the requested optional refreshment contribution from $50 to $25. We expected to see a decline in receipts, but we are actually taking in about as much as last year as more members elect to contribute. Pickleball was our first new activity this year. We tried to introduce this sport about five years ago but had to cancel due to lack of interest. Now we have about 10 men playing twice a week. Current Affairs had its inaugural meeting in January, with 15 members attending to discuss the electoral college. And we now are making plans to start a Boating Club, which would remain active over the summer. Our finances are sound, with a moderate profit projected for the year. The DMA is on a roll!

(continued on p. 2)

(continued from p.1)

Scott Hutchason, president

Events and Activities

Events

Bill Winship announced the following trips for March through June. Sign up today. Email Bill at williamwinship3@aol.com

March 9: Westchester Broadway Theater, “The Bikinis,” lunch included

April 20: Intrepid Sea, Air & Space Museum with lunch at St. Andrews restaurant

May 4: NBC Sports Group tour, Stamford, and lunch at Giovanni’s Waters Edge

May 18: Ellis Island National Park with lunch on-site

June 15: Annual Weed Beach Cookout, a catered event

Bridge

Tues. 1 p.m. St. Luke’s Episcopal Church

Book Club

Harris Hester notes that on March 8, Black Flags: The Rise of ISIS, winner of the 2016 Pulitzer Prize for nonfiction, will be discussed. The New York Times called it, “A Best Book of 2015.”

David Mace is discussion leader. On April 12, A Hero of France, by Alan Furst, will be discussed. The book is an action-packed story of romance, intrigue, spies and bravery in occupied France.

Bert von Steulpnagle is discussion leader. The Book Club meets the second Wednesday of the month, 12:30 p.m., at the Mathers Center in the Library.

Pickleball, Paddle and Tennis

Al Metayer reports that pickleball continues to get a large turnout Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9:30 a.m., at the Mathers Center. Al is working on setting up paddle ball and tennis at Weed Beach this spring.

Current Affairs

Jim Phillips reports the following discussion dates and topics:

March 16: “Sanctuary Cities and Immigration,” the impact on cities, local economies and law enforcement. Bob Baker, discussion leader, has posted a great deal of background information on the DMA website that participants can study prior to the meeting.

April 20: “Charter Schools: Pros and Cons” will be talked about. David Mace, discussion leader, also has posted background information on the subject on the DMA website. Current Affairs meets on the third Thursday of each month at 8:15 a.m. at the Darien Civic Association. Meetings are in the Lillian Gade Room and in the Library if there are more than 14 people. If you are unable to attend a meeting, you can go to the DMA website to study information about the discussion topic.

Computers

Tues. 10 a.m. Mathers Center

Woodworking

Mon./Tues. 9:30 a.m. Mathers Center

March Madness Basketball Pool

John Barston announced the only time members can enter the pool is March 15 at the Wednesday morning meeting. The Final Four tournament begins the next day. Brackets will be announced on Selection Sunday, March 12. That leaves only three days to pick your favorite eight teams and which of those teams you think will win the tournament. Contest managers John Barston, Bill Bellis and Taylor Strubinger will be available to take your entries on March 15 before the start of the meeting, during the coffee break and at the end of the meeting. Good luck to all.

Hiking

Sunil Saksena reports the spring hiking dates are March 30, April 28 and May 26. The locations are yet to be determined. Sunil is looking for intriguing and invigorating trails. He noted that John Muir, the well-known naturalist, said that if citizens are not regularly exposed to nature, they become “tired, nerve shaken and overcivilized people.”

Happy Wanderers John Barston announced the schedule for upcoming wanderings. Thursday, April 27, the group will journey to New Amsterdam led by John. Thursday, May 25, City Island is the destination led by Joe Spain. The last wandering will be Thursday, June 22, led by Taylor Strubinger with a destination yet to be determined.

Romeos

Wed. 5 p.m. Darien Diner

Speakers March–April

Wednesday, March 1

W. Michael Crouch, LCSW, is a psychotherapist with a master's degree in social work from Columbia University and certifications in eye movement, desensitization and reprocessing (EMDR), and dialectical behavioral therapy. In private practice in Stamford for 25 years, he treats adults, couples and families who suffer from depression, anxiety and trauma. Michael is co-coordinator of the Fairfield County Trauma Recovery Network (FCTRN), a community of EMDR-trained therapists who focus on the treatment and education of first responders in Fairfield County. The FCTRN was founded in response to the tragedies of the 2011 Christmas Day fire in Stamford and the 2012 school shooting at Sandy Hook Elementary School, Newtown. In its six years, the FCTRN has educated and treated more than 1,500 individuals in the state of Connecticut. Previously, Michael served on the board of the Fairfield County Chapter of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, which offers support and mental health services to those suffering from the loss of a loved one through suicide. He lives in Norwalk with his wife, who together have a blended family of four children and three grandchildren.

Arranged by Wilder Baker

Wednesday, March 8

Sandy Garnett will talk about his career as a fine arts artist and his book, The Year of an Artist.

His presentation will include slides of his work and a video. A successful painter, sculptor, creator of public arts installations, author and songwriter, he has been plying his craft for the past 25 years. He lives and works out of a loft in South Norwalk. Sandy began his career in high school, selling his art in parking lots at Grateful Dead concerts. While attending St. Lawrence University, he set up a studio and created art for 50 bands and production companies. Today, his work can be found in 40 states, 10 countries and a network of 500 collectors. His art has been placed in museums and public, corporate and private collections. Sandy has developed a reputation as a self-sufficient, prolific painter, sculptor and multimedia creator. He is best known for his 20-year running Fingerprint Project, which features sculpted and painted fingerprints, human silhouettes and signatures. He recently signed his 1,250th career painting. The first 1,000 paintings appear in his 2012 catalogue, "The First 1000 Paintings of Sandy Garnett." Sandy's public arts projects have received national recognition. At the Stamford train station, he created a permanent fine arts lighting installation hailed as one of the most compelling public arts projects on the East Coast. Other public arts projects include the Fox Cities Building for the Arts in Appleton, Wis., and the New London Light Cube here in Connecticut. As an author, his first book, Baloney Express, is an autobiographical coming-of-age story. The Year of an Artist, published in 2011, documents his survival as an artist. He also writes, illustrates and publishes The Rainbow Riders children's books. His album, "Ep1," is available on iTunes and includes "Busted Wing," "Sylvie," "Northern Lights," "Cruzing," "Perry Street," "Every Love" and "MCT of Thee." For more about Sandy and his work, go to sandygarnett.com.

Arranged by Tom Lom

Wednesday, March 15

William Tobey will talk about nuclear proliferation. William currently serves on the Secretary of State's International Security Advisory Board and the Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board of the National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine. He chairs the board of the World Institute for Nuclear Security. William was Deputy Administrator for Defense Nuclear Nonproliferation at the National Nuclear Security Administration from 2006-2009. There, he managed the U.S. government's largest program to prevent nuclear proliferation and terrorism by detecting, securing and disposing of dangerous nuclear materials. He also served on the National Security Council Staff under three presidents, working in defense policy, arms control and counter-proliferation positions. He has participated in international negotiations ranging from the START talks with the Soviet Union to the Six Party Talks with North Korea.

Arranged by Tom Lom

Wednesday, March 22

Jayne Stevenson, first selectman of the Town of Darien, will present “The State of the Town.”

Jayne’s update will include a review of town operations and the outlook for changes in the near future. She has been first selectman since 2011 and has been a member of the board of selectmen since 2009. Jayne recently was elected chairman of the Western Connecticut Council of Governments and served as vice chairman beginning in 2015. She recently was named to the board of directors of the Connecticut Conference of Municipalities and to that organization’s municipal risk insurance agency known as the Connecticut Interlocal Risk Management Agency. Jayne has served on a wide variety of Darien nonprofit boards, including The Depot, the Darien Nature Center and the First Congregational Church Nursery School. She also was chairman of the Parent Teachers Organization for Royle Elementary School and Darien High School. She has been a member of the board of The Center for Sexual Assault Crisis Counseling and Education since 2016. Jayne and her husband have lived in Darien for 26 years and have five children. Her husband grew up in Darien and is a graduate of Darien High School.

Arranged by Marc Thorne

Wednesday, March 29

Ambassador April Foley will talk about “Central Europe: A Region in Flux,” based on her service as U.S. ambassador to Hungary from 2006-2009. Her presentation will include the historic and geopolitical factors creating tensions in the region such as the migrant crisis, the political shift right, pressures on the European Union and energy security. Her work for Middle Eastern countries includes service on the American-Iraqi Joint Economic Council aimed at strengthening Iraq’s economic performance. Working with the Afghanistan minister of finance, she helped create a strategy for foreign direct investment in that country. Her career in professional management includes chair of the board of The Hungary Initiatives Foundation, independent director of Vista Outdoor and director of Xerium Technologies, Inc. At the Export-Import Bank of the United States, she served as first vice president and vice chairman. In the business world, Ambassador

Foley served in executive positions with PepsiCo, Alliant Techsystems, Inc., Wilson Sporting Goods, Pfizer and The Reader’s Digest. Her volunteer activities include membership on the Smith College board of trustees and the Ambassadorial Advisory Council of the Atlantic Council. She also is a member of the Council of American Ambassadors, the Center for Advanced Defense Studies and the President’s Council for Northern Westchester Hospital. April holds a B.A. degree from Smith College and an M.B.A. degree from Harvard University. She is a widow with three adult children and three grandchildren.

Arranged by Tom Lom

Wednesday, April 5

James Mapes will talk about his newest book, IMAGINE THAT: Igniting your Brain for Creativity and Peak Performance. His presentations are personal, interactive and humorous. As a recognized business speaker and performance coach, James has spoken to hundreds of public and private companies in more than 70 countries. His clients include financial institutions, software companies, the military, the healthcare industry, financial institutions, training and development divisions of large corporations and major non-profit organizations. For more than 30 years, James has been an ardent student of human behavior dedicated to helping people to identify and break through barriers to achieve success. He encourages people to be open to new ways of thinking. His goal is to help everyone make the quantum leap toward more creative, productive and confident lives. His bestselling book, Quantum Leap Thinking: An Owner's Guide to the Mind, has been published in 10 languages. For both businesses and individuals, his message promotes an innovative, powerful way of thinking. It provides a new-found mastery over their imagination and perceptions so that, in his words, "the invisible becomes visible, and the impossible becomes possible." As a performer, James developed a special talent for connecting with his audience. His work has earned him appearances on CNN, "The Today Show," "Good Morning America" and Fox Family Channel, among other media outlets. James' personal goal of living an exceptional life is reflected in his recreational pursuits, which range from scuba diving, ballooning, race car driving, Kempo Karate and world travel to an avid interest in reading.

Arranged by Tom Lom/Scott Hutchason

Wednesday, April 12

David Fitzpatrick will talk about his 40-year career as a network television producer and manager covering major news events around the world. David recently retired from CNN after serving as a senior investigative producer for more than 15 years. Previously, he was with CBS News for 25 years. He also was with the ABC news magazine called 20/20 for two years. At CNN, he covered many of the world's most riveting events: the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, Hurricane Katrina, the BP oil spill, the tsunami in Indonesia and the Malaysian airplane that went missing. He also covered the Boston Marathon bombing and the more recent attacks in Paris and Brussels. While at CBS News, he served in bureaus in New York City, Washington, D.C., Los Angeles and London. He was bureau manager in Chicago and the network's national editor in New York. He was lead producer for CBS coverage of the Iran hostage crisis and produced "60 Minutes" for three years, working with Morley Safer's team. His friend and colleague Dan Rather once said it's easier to list the places around the globe David hasn't worked than to list the places where he's been. David and his wife Adria Bates Fitzpatrick live in Darien and have three adult children.

Arranged by Alex Garnett

Wednesday, April 19

John Rousmaniere will present “The America’s Cup, Then and Now,” an entertaining review of the nearly 170-year history of one of the world’s most celebrated and sometimes controversial sports trophies. John is the author of 30 books covering a wide range of topics, including the America’s Cup, yachting history, seamanship and New York history. His books include Fastnet Force 10, After the Storm, The Annapolis Book of Seamanship and three histories of the America’s Cup. He is a recipient of the Mystic Seaport W.P. Stephens Award for maritime history. John has sailed more than 40,000 miles in many waters and is a member of the New York Yacht Club and the Cruising Club of America. He headed the media operation for the four most recent Newport-Bermuda races. Descended from a Frenchman who served on the rebels’ side in the American Revolution, John is an alumnus of Columbia University and Union Theological Seminary. After many years of residing in Stamford, he now lives in Manhattan with his wife Leah and sails wherever there are good boats.

Arranged by Bob Fiske

Wednesday, April 26

Michael Parry, M.D., is director of infectious diseases and microbiology at Stamford Hospital and is professor of clinical medicine at Columbia University. He will talk about “Super Bugs.” Dr. Parry has received numerous teaching and quality awards, has published more than 100 articles, reviews and book chapters and has been recognized for his work in HIV infection, influenza vaccination, antimicrobial resistance and hospital epidemiology. He established the Infectious Disease Department at Stamford Hospital, where he has practiced clinical infectious diseases and hospital epidemiology since 1976. He currently occupies the Thomas Jay Bradsell Chair of Infectious Diseases, funded by a donation from a grateful patient. Dr. Parry is a founding member of the New York-Presbyterian Hospital Infection Control Council and has been active on many local, state and national committees on infectious diseases, quality and safety, and public health. He is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians, the Infectious Diseases Society of America and the Society for Healthcare Epidemiology of America. He was president of the Connecticut Infectious Diseases Society from 1990 to 1993 and was that society’s nominee for its Clinician of the Year award in 1995 and 1996. Dr. Parry received a B.A. degree in English from Yale University in 1966 and an M.D. degree from Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1970. His residency training was completed at New York-Presbyterian/Columbia University Medical Center and the University of California, San Francisco.

Arranged by Jack Fitzgibbons

Membership

John Podkowsky, membership and hospitality chairman, reports that as of February 24, membership totaled 279, including 27 new members since September 1, 2016. Be sure to welcome these new people by introducing yourself. Following are photos and bios of recent new members.

Walter Casey was born in 1944 in New York City and graduated in 1962 from Bishop Loughlin

Memorial High School. He received a B.S. degree in business administration from Boston College in 1967 and an M.B.A. from Columbia Business School in 1970. Walter began his business career in 1966 with Price Waterhouse in Boston and New York City. In 1972, he joined Irving Trust Company in corporate finance. In 1977, he joined ITT in finance and information technology in New York City and California. He became an equity analyst for the technology sector with Schrodgers in 1993 and in 1999 joined Bank One in Columbus, Ohio, as an equity analyst and portfolio manager, retiring in 2004. He lives in Darien, is a widower, and has two daughters and four grandchildren. He is a member of New Albany Country Club, New Albany, Ohio; Middlesex Club; and Piedmont Club. He enjoys reading, swimming, politics and the markets. Walter writes his own blog and has been involved with reopening the Holmes School, as well as bringing neighborhood schools and paramedics to Darien.

David Lindsay was born in 1946 in Greenwich, where he was introduced to sailing that began a lifetime passion for the water. In 1964, he graduated from Trinity-Pawling School, where he played lacrosse and hockey. David attended St. Lawrence University and started a freshman lacrosse team that was undefeated that year. In 1968, he took a year off to sail and race 27,000 miles on a 73-foot sailboat named Ondine, winning every major ocean race in the Atlantic that year. He began his business career in 1971 helping build the Snowbird Ski Area in Alta, Utah, and then joined the Olin Ski Company working with the professional racing program and the exhibition ski team. In 1974, he joined UK Sailmakers and, for the next 14 years, helped expand the business into an international organization with 17 franchise sailmakers worldwide and also sailed with the best offshore sailors of the time. David began a second career in 1988 with Rand Insurance, where he currently is vice president of sales, offering personal and commercial insurance. He and his wife Teal live in Rowayton and have one adult child and one grandchild. He is a member of Noroton Yacht Club, Silvermine Golf Club, Weston Gun Club, Storm Trysail Club and Ten Mile River Preserve in Dover, N.Y. He also is a member of Ducks Unlimited, U.S. Sporting Clays Association and Connecticut State Golf Association. He served on the parents' board of Greens Farms Academy and the board of the New Canaan Chamber of Commerce. He enjoys boating, fishing, golf, clay shooting and upland bird hunts. He also spends time working with Labrador Retrievers.

Geoff Rezek was born in Astoria, N.Y., in 1941. He grew up in Port Washington, N.Y., and graduated from high school in 1959, where he was a member of the track and football teams. He received a B.S. degree in industrial management in 1964 and an M.S. degree in engineering management in 1966 from Long Island University Post, Brookville, N.Y. Geoff began his business career in 1965 as an industrial engineer at IBM's plants in East Fishkill and Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Upon completing his U.S. Army National Guard basic training, he joined IBM's Long Island office as a systems engineer and later became an industry specialist. In 1983, he moved to Darien to support the IBM installation at General Electric. Upon retiring, he joined Oracle's J.D. Edwards EnterpriseOne software company, and in 2001, he formed G.R. Rezek & Associates to provide support to companies using the software. Geoff and his wife Jackie live in Darien. They have two adult children and four grandchildren. He is a member of the Darien YMCA and likes to play the ukulele. He donated his collection of ukuleles and related items to the National Music Museum at the University of South Dakota. He also enjoys working with wood and finding jokes to tell.

John Trainer was born in Sewickley, Pa., in 1948. He graduated from the Hun School of Princeton in 1967, where he was a member of the soccer and crew teams. He received a B.A. degree in business administration from Marietta College in 1973. John began his career in finance that same year with the Pittsburgh National Bank and later joined the Mellon Bank as a portfolio manager in the trust division. In 1981, he became vice president and portfolio manager with the Bank of New York investment counsel department. He then joined Fiduciary Trust Company International in the high-net-worth department and was a managing director and member of the equity strategy committee. He retired in 2014. He and his wife Barbara live in Darien and have two adult children. He is a member of Wee Burn Country Club and likes travel and photography. He also enjoys owning and operating classic wooden boats at a family home in Canada.

Flemming Heilmann was born in 1936 in Penang, Malaysia, on a rubber plantation. His family fled the Japanese invasion in 1941, becoming refugees in Australia. He later grew up in Denmark and England. In 1954, he graduated from Gresham's School, where he was head boy, played varsity rugby and field hockey, and was a member of the track and field team. In 1957, he received a B.A. and an M.A. degree in economics and law from Cambridge University, where he was captain of the Downing College rugby team, secretary of the Griffins Club athletic society and member of the Cranworth Law Society. Flemming's career in corporate management in the packaging industry began in 1957 in England with the Metal Box Company. In 1960, he was named chief executive officer of Metal Box South Africa, Ltd. In 1977, he joined Continental Can Company in Stamford, became president of Continental Group of Europe in Brussels, and then group executive vice president and chief administrative officer in Stamford. He joined Onex Packaging, Inc. as chief executive officer in 1984 in Toronto. In 1989, he was named president and chief executive officer of Brockway Standard, Inc. in Atlanta, serving until 1994. He has held company directorships in London, Johannesburg, Toronto and Atlanta. He was a volunteer director and chairman of the Jacob Riis Neighborhood Settlement in New York's inner city, 1996-2012. Flemming served as co-chair of the Museum of the City of New York Jacob Riis Exhibition Project; New York representative of Danes Worldwide; director of the Danish American Chamber of Commerce; president of the Danish American Society; and trustee of the American Scandinavian Foundation. He is a Knight of the Order of Dannebrog, 1st; recipient of the Ellis Island Medal of Honor; and Wilkins Fellow of Downing College, Cambridge University. Flemming and his wife Judy live in Rowayton. They have five adult children and nine grandsons. His interests include current international affairs and reading.

Charlie Barnett was born in 1939 in Charleston, W.Va., and graduated in 1957 from Thurston High School, Redford Township, Mich., where he was president of the student council and editor of the yearbook. He received a B.A. degree in philosophy in 1961 from the University of Michigan and was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He earned a J.D. degree in 1964 from the University of Michigan Law School. Charlie began his law career in 1964 with Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft in New York City. Starting in 1968, he was in-house general counsel for a number of companies, including St. Joe Minerals Corporation, Combustion Engineering Inc. and The Reader's Digest Association, Inc. He opened a private practice in 1994, serving clients in Greenwich and Westport until retiring in 2012. He and his wife Judith live in Norwalk and have three adult children and seven grandchildren. He is a member of Wee Burn Country Club and is a former member of the board of directors of the Darien Library and the Darien YMCA. He enjoys golf, squash and reading and is a member of two Darien book clubs.

Wouter Goedkoop was born in Amsterdam, Netherlands, in 1939 and grew up in Bloemendaal, close to the North Sea. He went to Haarlem High School and in 1962 graduated from Dartmouth College, where he was on the varsity rowing squad. For two years, he served as an officer in the Royal Dutch Navy and later joined IHC Holland, a dredging and offshore equipment firm. In 1969, he graduated from Harvard Business School. He then was a consultant before joining ITT Europe in Brussels, where he was a controller in the automotive division and later an acquisition specialist. He then joined Continental Can, serving as a division controller, international manager for glass closure, and then vice president of subsidiaries in Europe, Latin America and Asia-Pacific. In 1982, he moved to Darien, becoming president of a ceramic capacitor company. He later joined a startup company that worked to improve the mobility of physically impaired people, retiring in 2005. He was chairman of the Center for Contemporary Printmaking and is on the board of Creative Connections and Friends of Selleck Woods. He and his wife Hanneke live in Rowayton and have two adult children and four grandchildren. He enjoys tennis, paddle ball and golf.

Jack Miller was born in 1945 in Staten Island, N.Y., and grew up in Bombay, India, and Sydney, Australia. In 1962, he graduated from Edgemont High School, Scarsdale, N.Y., where he was senior class vice president and a member of the football and track teams. He received an A.B. degree in 1966 from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of International Relations and an M.B.A. degree in finance in 1968 from the University of Michigan. Jack began his career in finance in 1968 with Eli Lilly, becoming director of investments with the company in London and Rome. He then joined Philip Morris as corporate controller and later joined J.P. Morgan in investment management. In 1998, he joined General Motors in asset management in New York City until retiring in 2008. Jack is a member of Wee Burn Country Club and Noroton Presbyterian Church. He serves on the Presbyterian Board of Pensions, the Helmsley Charitable Trust, the Evergreen Cemetery and the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corporation. He and his wife Lysie live in Darien and have two adult children and three grandchildren. He enjoys duplicate bridge, golf and travel.

Brian Smalley was born in 1951 in Blackpool, England. He graduated in 1970 from high school in London, where he played cricket and squash. He began his career in international steel trading with Coutinho Caro & Co. in London and later worked in Spain, Mexico and New York for the same company. In 2001, he joined Stemcor USA Inc. in New York, managing steel markets in Latin America until retiring in 2016. Brian and his wife Laura live in Darien and are members of the Noroton Presbyterian Church. They have one son and three grandchildren who live in New Hampshire. Brian is a soccer fan and follows the English Premier League. He also is a cricket fan and follows the England National Team.

Darien Men's Association Newsletter

Editor, Ray Meurer. New Member Photos, Michael Poler. Distribution, Taylor Strubinger. Artwork, Tom Glover. Mailing labels, Frank Kemp. Photo credits this issue, Gregory Glashan