

March Madness Winners

Left to right: Jim Tulacro, $50; Tony Kwedar, $25; John Barston, $100; Pete Scull, $50; Bill Bellis, game manager.
Photo by Gregory Glashan

President's Message

Last September, we announced that increased participation in DMA activities would be a major focus this year. The principal reason was to enhance the DMA experience for our members, but we also believed it would lead to growth in membership. Results have exceeded expectations. We now have 38 new members, compared with 27 two months ago and 26 for the entire 2015-2016 season. And pending are six more who have not yet given their introduction. This is an unprecedented total, and we still have five meetings remaining. Equally remarkable, only 11 (4%) of last year's members have not renewed their membership. We expect to end the year with close to 300 members. Prior to this year, the last new activity was Hiking, which started in October 2013. This year, we added four new activities: Pickleball, Current Affairs, Boating and Chess. And what is particularly gratifying is that all these ideas came from the bottom up; none were suggested by your officers. Another indicator of the vitality of the DMA is the ease with which the Nominating Committee filled the officer and director positions for 2017-2018. All candidates were enthusiastic in their acceptance, and all were our first choice.

In this, my final message to you, I would like to thank my fellow officers, directors, committee chairmen and activity leaders for their dedicated service. But, in the final analysis, we are merely facilitators. It is you who are responsible for our success by participating and by bringing your friends as guests to share in the DMA experience. I will not pretend that the positions I have held have not involved work, but when one is having fun, it does not seem like work.

Scott Hutchason, president

Events and Activities

Trips

Bill Winship announced that the final trip of the spring season is to Ellis Island, Thursday, May 18, 2017. Cost is $45. The bus will board at 7:15 a.m. in the Darien Community Association parking lot. Bring a picnic lunch or purchase lunch at the Ellis Island cafeteria. To sign up, contact Chris Snyder at (203) 858-7232 or email csnydereco@gmail.com.

Annual Weed Beach Cookout

Alex Garnett will host the annual cookout at Weed Beach, Thursday, June 15, 2017, 5 p.m.-8:30 p.m. It will be a catered affair by Vavala's Deli. No food to bring—just come and enjoy. Family and friends are welcome. Just $35 per person. A great value that includes wine, beer and soft drinks. Last year's picnic was a great success—this year will be even better. Appetizers include sliders, chips with salsa and guacamole, shrimp, salad, and cheese and crackers. Dinner entrées include salmon, chicken or beef. Dessert is sheet cake, cookies and fruit. Socialize with your friends and make new ones while eating gourmet food and enjoying a beautiful water view. Rain date is June 16, 2017.

Boating Club Gets Under Way

Jack Donlon has agreed to serve as commodore, and planning for a variety of year-round activities has begun. Twenty-two members expressed an interest in joining. It is expected that the club's first on-the-water event will take place before the end of May. Anyone who has an interest in boating is invited to join the group, whether or not you have a boat. Activities being discussed include day trips to Long Island, fishing on a charter boat, fishing on a small boat and sunset cocktail cruises with spouses. Also being considered are winter trips to the New York Yacht Club, Mystic Seaport and the Norwalk Aquarium.

Book Club

Harris Hester reports that the following books will be read through August. All discussions are held in the Library of the Mather's Senior Center the second Wednesday of the month starting at 12:30 p.m. Participants bring their own lunch or may purchase food in the center's cafeteria. May 10: Hero of the Empire by Candice Millard. Winston Churchill's extraordinary and little-known exploits during the Boer War. Discussion leader Chris Filmer. June 14: The Undoing Project by Michael Lewis. How a Nobel Prize-winning theory of the mind altered our perception of reality. July 12: Last Hope Island by Lynne Olsen. Britain was the lone holdout against Hitler's offensive and became a beacon of hope to the rest of Europe. August 9: Onslaught by David Poyner. The most recent in Poyner's acclaimed novels about America's modern Navy and Marine Corps. The book chronicles Dan Lenson's latest challenge as the U.S. Navy struggles to hold Taiwan, Korea and Japan against a massive Chinese offensive.

Photo by Gregory Glashan

Current Affairs

The Current Affairs group meets the third Thursday of the month, September-June, 8 a.m., in the Lillian Gade Room, second floor, Darien Community Association. The focus of the discussion is not to debate the pros and cons of the topics but to talk about information that is relevant. The discussion leader maintains this focus and posts reference material on the DMA website that participants can read prior to the meeting. Jim Phillips reports the following discussion topics for May and June. May 18: The Federal Deficit, John Bartlett discussion leader. June 15: U.S.-Mexican Relations, Gary Banks discussion leader.

Woodworking

Tom Williams and the woodworkers helped Bert von Stuelpnagel's Boy Scouts, who received donations of damaged furniture for an upcoming tag sale. The woodworkers repaired the furniture and turned it into highly salable items. Included are an antique desk, a cedar trunk, a playhouse, a table and a child's rocking chair. The tag sale is Sunday, May 7, 140 West Ave., Darien. Proceeds go to support programs carried out by Troop 35 and Troop 53.

Photo by Gary Banks

Photo by Gary Banks

Tennis, Pickleball

Al Metayer says tennis will get under way as the weather gets warmer. Start time for tennis is 9:30 a.m. at Weed Beach, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, May-August. Pickleball will continue May-August, 9:30 a.m., at the Mather Center, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Happy Wanderers

The minute the weather turned for the better, John Barston and Taylor Strubinger had the wanderers prowling the streets of New York. The first outing was in April, photo below. They started at Bowling Green Park and walked around lower Manhattan. Finally, it was time for a beer at the Stone Street Tavern, then on to Chinatown for lunch. Later, they walked down Mulberry Street to the old St. Patrick's Cathedral and, on angels' wings, headed home. In May, a tour of City Island is planned. In June, a walk along the Hudson River is set to see the Fort Washington Revolutionary War outpost, photos below, and to take a peek at the Little Red Lighthouse under the George Washington Bridge.

Chess Club

Tony Kwedar reports that the newly formed Chess Club has started meeting on Mondays, 1 p.m.-2:45 p.m., at the Mather Center in a room just off the cafeteria. All chess enthusiasts are invited to join in. For questions, contact Tony at (203) 656-0444 or email littlestirecho@aol.com.

Romeos

John Geoghegan reports that the Romeos continue to meet for dinner on Wednesday at 5 p.m. at the Darien Diner. They will maintain that schedule throughout the summer. "We operate year round," said John. "Come one, come all. Good companionship. Good food."

Bowling

Tom Lom reports that the Bowling group has had a striking season so far this year. They kept rolling right along with a lively exchange of quarters as wagers are made amongst the bowlers, who are always reaching for higher scores. All are invited to join in the fun on Tuesdays at 9:15 a.m. at the Nutmeg Lanes in Fairfield. No bowling June, July and August.

Photo by John Kammerman

Darien Spring Cleanup

Jack Fitzgibbons, chairman of community services, reports there was a good turnout of DMA members for the annual Darien Spring Cleanup on Saturday, April 22. Participants met at 8 a.m.

in the parking lot behind the Gofer Ice Cream store, where they were equipped with wooden pickup sticks made by the DMA woodworkers along with sanitary gloves and trash bags. DMA was responsible for cleaning up the area around the Darien Railroad Station. Tom Williams, representative of the DMA Woodworkers, said, “The woodworkers made 20 wooden pickup sticks with a handle on one end and a sharpened nail on the other end. The sticks made it a lot easier to gather debris and put it in a trash bag.”

Hiking

Sunil Saxena had the hikers hitting the trails as soon as the snow melted. They already have had two successful outings with great turnouts. First up was Pomerance Park, below, in Greenwich, followed by the Mianus River Park in Stamford. Next up is a hike Friday, May 26, with a tentative location of Topstone Park in Redding. That will be a wrap until September.

Photo by Harvey Mogenson

Speakers May-June

Wednesday, May 3

David Polk, executive director, The First Tee of Connecticut, will talk about “It’s More than Just a Game.” His presentation has something for golfers and non-golfers. The First Tee believes its programs help improve the lives of those who embrace the game’s traditions and values. Last year,

The First Tee enrolled more than 2,300 young people in certification programs at golf facilities across the state. It exposes underprivileged youth to golf who otherwise might not have access to the game. The First Tee curriculum includes in-school and national school programs, group lessons, on-course team programs and summer camps. In addition to golf, it teaches nine core values: honesty, integrity, sportsmanship, respect, courtesy, judgment, confidence, responsibility and perseverance. The curriculum also teaches nine healthy habits – energy, play, safety, vision, mind, family, friends, school and community – that are part of the game of golf. In addition to his work at First Tee, David volunteers as trustee of the New Britain Museum of American Art and is past chair of the Hartford Marathon Foundation, past chair of the Connecticut Sports Management Group and current chair of Church Homes, Inc. He lives in West Hartford with his wife Rennie and enjoys playing golf at the Hartford

Golf Club.

Arranged by Alex Garnett

Wednesday, May 10

Philip Vitiello, well-known Connecticut Civil War historian and re-enactor, will talk about the H.L. Hunley, the first submarine to sink an enemy ship in combat. The night of February 17, 1864, the H.L. Hunley, a vessel of the Confederate States of America, sank the USS Housatonic off the coast of Charleston, S.C. The Hunley then mysteriously vanished with its crew of eight. Questions arose. Why had the underwater craft suddenly disappeared? More than a century later, it was discovered in 1995 by author Clive Cussler and raised on August 8, 2000. Today, the Hunley resides at a conservation center where scientists are piecing together clues to solve the mystery of its disappearance. Philip’s presentation will tell the story of the men who designed the Hunley, how and where the submarine was built and how it worked. He will provide a history of the crew and surmise whether a Connecticut soldier was part of the Hunley’s crew. He also will discuss the recent burial of the remains of some of the crew at Arlington National Cemetery. Philip has spent 40 years studying, reading and visiting Civil War eastern theater battlefields. He is a vice president of the Civil War Round Table of South Central Connecticut and a charter member of The Friends of Hunley. As well, Philip is a charter member of The International Group for Historical Aircraft Recovery and the Titanic Historical Society. He teaches a history course at Norwalk Community College Lifetime Learners Institute. A lifelong resident of New Haven, he is a graduate of the University of New Haven and director of marketing for Northeast Food Marketing in Stamford. Philip last spoke to the DMA about the Civil War hero General Joshua Chamberlain.

Arranged by Tom Lom

Wednesday, May 17

Sean Connolly, commissioner of the State of Connecticut Department of Veterans Affairs, is responsible for overseeing the Veterans' Home in Rocky Hill, Conn., and other services for 270,000 veterans residing in the state. Commissioner Connolly will talk about the Connecticut Wartime Service Ribbon and will pin this award on DMA members who are qualified recipients. He also will touch on the Department of Veterans Affairs and its mission to serve those who have served their country. A lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve, Commissioner Connolly is a decorated veteran of Operation Iraqi Freedom. He served on active duty for seven years. He also is a lawyer, and prior to being named commissioner in 2015, he was the global ethics and compliance officer for Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Commissioner Connolly is the recipient of the Bronze Star Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal, the Iraqi Campaign

Medal and the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal. He received his undergraduate degree from Bryant University and his Juris Doctor from Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law. He and his wife live in Hebron, Conn., and have two boys and a rescue puppy. Of local interest, the first home for veterans in the United States was established in Darien following the Civil War by Benjamin Fitch, a wealthy Connecticut businessman. Other states adopted this policy, which evolved into a national network of homes and was the forerunner of today's Department of Veterans Affairs.

Arranged by Erik Rambusch

Wednesday, May 24

Rear Admiral John Weigold IV, Reserve Deputy Commander, U.S. Pacific Fleet, will talk about Pacific Operations that include the South China Sea and North Korea. Important issues there are freedom of navigation and bilateral and multilateral relations with our allies in the region. He is a Connecticut native and son of a Navy Underwater Demolition team/Frogman veteran. John first served on the USS John King (DDG 3) as a gunnery officer and damage control assistant and auxiliaries and electrical officer and then on the USS Caron (DD 970) as navigator and administration/personnel officer. He has commanded seven Reserve units, as well as the Iceland Defense Force and United States Forces Korea. As a flag officer, he was assigned to his current role in 2015. Previous flag assignments include service as the deputy commander, U.S. 7th Fleet, Yokosuka, Japan, and deputy director, Operations, at U.S. Pacific Command, Honolulu, Hawaii. John is a recipient of the Defense Superior Service Medal, the Legion of Merit (three awards), Defense Meritorious Service Medal (three awards), Navy-Marine Corps Commendation Medal (two awards), Army Commendation Medal, Navy-Marine Corps Achievement Medal plus other unit and individual service awards. He is a partner with Korn Ferry International, a global talent management solutions firm.

Arranged by Tom Lom

Wednesday, May 31

Joe Holmes will lead the DMA Songsters as they entertain us with a medley of familiar songs that will get your toes tapping. You can expect to hear them sing “Stout Hearted Men,” “Night and Day,” “Coney Island Baby,” “Battle Hymn of the Republic,” “Nothing Like a Dame,” “Yes Sir, That’s My Baby,” “Ride That Chariot” and several others for a total of 15 old-time favorites. Don’t miss this song-filled sendoff of our last meeting until September.

Membership

John Podkowsky, membership and hospitality chairman, reports that as of May 26, 2017, membership totaled 290, including 38 new members since September 1, 2016. There also are six new member candidates. Be sure to welcome these new people by introducing yourself.

Following are photos and bios of recent new members.

Jim Abbotts was born in 1947 in Danville, Va., and grew up in Darien, where he graduated from high school in 1965 and played football, basketball and baseball. In 1969, he graduated from The Citadel and served in the U.S. Air Force for five years, teaching English to cadets in San Antonio, Texas, who were from Libya and Iran, and was an English instructor in Vietnam. He later served in the office of information and the office of special investigations at the base in Charleston, S.C. He then joined Multishifter, Inc., where he was eastern regional sales manager in Charlotte, N.C., retiring in 2005. He and Jackie Fawcett live in Norwalk. He has two adult children and two grandchildren. He is a member of The Citadel Alumni Association and the Darien First Congregational Church.

George Hawes was born in 1944 in Sea Girt, N.J., and graduated from The Peddie School in 1962, where he was on the swimming team and played lacrosse and football. He received a B.S. degree in finance in 1966 from Lehigh University, where he was on the lacrosse and rugby teams and was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He then served in the U.S. Marine Corps for four years as a naval aviator and was pilot of a Huey Gunship in Vietnam. George began a career in finance in 1971 with Citibank's private banking department and then worked in the bank's bond department. Later he went to work for Eastbridge capital in marketing investment management and later joined Fairview Partners LLC in 1995 in marketing alternative investments, where he continues to this day. George and his wife Liz live in Rowayton. He has four adult children and seven grandchildren. He is a member of the University Club, Wee Burn Country Club and the Leadership Committee of the Hyde Charter School. His interests include paddle ball, pickleball, golf, history, travel and current events.

David Hurwitt was born in 1938 in Kansas City, Mo., and graduated in 1967 from Pembroke Hill

School, where he played football and baseball. He also was a member of the student council and writer on the school newspaper. In 1960, he received a B.A. degree in political science from Harvard University and was on the baseball team. He received an M.B.A. in marketing in 1964 from Harvard Business School. David spent the first 26 years of his marketing and business management career with General Foods in the United States and Europe. He then joined the Denny's and Hardee's restaurants as vice president of marketing in South Carolina. In 1994, he became a marketing and strategy consultant in Connecticut, and in 2003, he bought a franchise from Renaissance Executive Forums to run an executive advisory board for southern Connecticut small business owners. In 2013, he became an executive coach, a service he continues to provide today. He and his wife Susan live in New Canaan and have four adult children and 11 grandchildren. He is a member of the New Canaan Rotary Club and enjoys photography, travel and pickleball.

Alan Palmer was born in Rochford, Essex, England, in 1948 and graduated in 1964 from Hylands School, where he played soccer, cricket and rugby. He also was a member of the scouts and the track and field team. Like most of his generation living in England at the time, Alan began working at the age of 16. He started in industry and then moved into banking with the Midland Bank and Bankers Trust. He later joined the Scandinavian Bank, responsible for business development in Iceland, Finland and Sweden. Subsequently, he worked in the bank's offices in Bahrain and then moved to Los Angeles to manage business development for North America. In 1990, he joined the bank's New York City office, retiring in 2016 as senior vice president for business development. He and his wife Helene live in Darien. Together, they have four adult children and four grandchildren. Alan enjoys photography, travel, art and fitness activities.

John Parker was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1935. He graduated in 1952 from Parma Schaaf

High School, where he was a member of the band, the debate club, the yearbook staff and the track team. He received a B.S. in engineering from Case Institute of Technology in 1956 and was a member of the band, the interfraternity council, the Theta Tau engineering fraternity, the Student Union Board of Managers and president of Theta Chi fraternity. He received an M.S. degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Connecticut and an M.B.A. degree from the New York University Stern School of Business. John began work at Electric Boat, Groton, Conn., in the Nuclear Engineering Department and was involved in the design testing and construction of three, first-of-a-kind nuclear submarines. He joined Stanley Consultants in 1969 and in 1972 became director of engineering at the Air Correction Division of Universal Oil Products in Darien. He later joined Sanderson and Porter, a consulting engineering firm, as a project manager. In 1978, he joined EBASCO Services, retiring in 1999 as director of business planning. He and his wife Marilyn live in Rowayton and have three adult children, four grandchildren and one great grandchild. He is a member of the Roton Point Club; the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, serving as president 2000-2001; and a board member of the Nambale Magnet School in Kenya. Since 2005, John and his wife have spent four months every year in Kenya, where they work with several schools and humanitarian organizations. They also have raised support for the education of 33 children and young people there, a number of whom have graduated from a university.

David Fitzpatrick was born in Manchester, N.H., in 1946. He graduated in 1964 from Manchester

Memorial High School, where he served as editor of the student newspaper, played in the band and performed in theatrical productions. In 1968, he graduated from Brigham Young University, where he was managing editor of The Universe, the campus daily newspaper, worked as a stringer for the Associated Press and played intramural basketball. David began his journalism career in 1968 as a reporter for the Associated Press and in 1970 joined The Arizona Republic. In 1973, he joined CBS News and for the next 25 years traveled the world covering major news events, including the Iran hostage crisis, the Tiananmen Square uprising, the fall of the Berlin Wall, the Polish solidarity movement, and wars in the Middle East and Central America. He also was a producer of “60 Minutes” and “Eye to Eye with Connie Chung.” In 1998, he became a producer with the ABC News program “20/20.” David joined CNN in 2001 and then worked as a producer, senior executive producer and investigative producer based in New York City, traveling worldwide for breaking news and investigative stories. Included among the major events he covered are the Iraq invasion, the Asian tsunami, Hurricane Katrina, two presidential elections, the missing Malaysian aircraft, and terrorist attacks in Paris and Brussels. He recently retired after a 40-year career in the news business. He and his wife Adria Mae Bates live in Darien and have three adult children. He is a member of The Bojangles of Connecticut, a singing group that performs year round at organizations such as senior centers and assisted care facilities. He enjoys golf, likes hiking, and is a fan of Boston sports teams, particularly the Red Sox and the Patriots.

Jim Rand was born in New York City in 1943, grew up in Darien and graduated from Blair Academy, Blairstown, N.J. He went on to receive a B.A. degree from Colgate University in 1966 and an M.B.A. from Columbia University in 1971. Jim served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy for three years, after which he joined the investment banking firm of Hornblower & Weeks, Hemphill, Noyes & Co. in 1973. He then began a career in ocean shipping management that included Maritime Fruit Carriers, Burmah Oil Tankers and Marine Transport Lines. He currently is president of Rand & Company, Inc./Naess Ship Management, B.V. He and his wife Gail live in Darien. They have three adult children and seven grandchildren, all of whom live in Darien. Jim is a member of the American Bureau of Shipping, the International Association of Independent Tanker Owners, Town of Darien Planning & Zoning Commission, Wee Burn Country Club and the Yale Club. He enjoys golf, boating and fishing.

Doug Thompson was born in Fenton, Mich., in 1940 and graduated in 1958 from Fenton High School. He played football and basketball and was a member of the Key Club, the Varsity Club and the school band. He received an associate's degree in science and engineering in 1960 from Flint Junior College, where he was student treasurer. In 1962, he received a B.S. degree in chemical engineering and was a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He began his career in 1962 with General Electric's training program and, over the next 16 years, worked in advanced manufacturing engineering in five different locations. He then worked for Shipley Company in sales and marketing. During that time, he served as president of the American Society of Electroplated Plastics and published papers in numerous trade journals. He joined Plastics EMI as director of sales and manufacturing and later ME Baker in a similar position. Later he worked in sales management for National Polystyrene Recycling Company, NE CRINC and EB Kingman. In 1999, he retired to manage 18 rental properties acquired over the years. Doug lives in Rowayton and has one son and one grandson. He enjoys duplicate bridge.

Bill Waters was born in Ithaca, N.Y., in 1932 and in 1950 graduated from Ithaca High School, where he played baseball, wrote for the school newspaper and was a member of the student council. He received an A.B. degree in economics in 1954 from Cornell University and was sports editor of the Cornell Daily Sun, cadet colonel in the ROTC, member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and member of the Sphinx Head senior honor society. In 1955, he received an M.B.A. in finance from Samuel Curtis Johnson Graduate School of Management at Cornell University. He served for two years in the U.S. Army and was discharged as a 1st Lieutenant in 1957. Bill was with Merrill Lynch from 1957-1996 and was a regular panelist on “Wall Street Week with Louis Rukeyser” for 25 years. At Merrill Lynch, he held a number of financial and management positions, including branch manager of the Providence and Baltimore offices and director of three home office divisions. In his final 12 years there, he was CEO of the International Private Client-Private Banking Group. He retired in 1996 as a senior vice president. He then served as an independent director on the board of five offshore mutual funds based in New York, Fort Lauderdale, Boston, Paris and Geneva until 2016. He and his wife Jane live in Darien and have three adult children and four grandchildren. He is a member of Wee Burn Country Club, Hatherly Country Club (Scituate, Mass.), Killington Ski Club and the Cornell Club. He enjoys skiing, golf and travel. His favorite sports teams are the Red Sox and the Patriots.

Sam Marrone was born in 1943 in Frederick, Md., and graduated in 1961 from Frederick High School, where he was class president and played on the football and track teams. He received a B.S. degree in engineering in 1966 from the U.S. Naval Academy and played lacrosse. He went on to serve in the U.S. Marine Corps for four years. He began his career in finance with First Pennco Securities in U.S. government securities sales and trading. He then went to work for Merrill Lynch and later DuPont Walston. He became a managing director and fixed income national sales manager with Becker Paribas and later with Kidder Peabody. He joined Barclays de Zoete Webb as chief executive officer, markets division. With ABN AMRO, he was executive vice president, fixed income North America, and was chief executive officer of DHS Technologies from 2004 to 2015. Sam and his wife Jane live in Darien and have two adult children and one grandson. He is a trustee of the Naval Academy Foundation Athletic & Scholarship programs. He enjoys cooking, travel and Navy sports.

Falgun Jariwala was born in Mumbai, India, in 1961 and received a B.S. degree from the University of Bombay in 1981. He received an M.B.A. degree from South Gujarat University in 1984 and an M.B.A. degree from the University of Connecticut in 1993. Falgun began his business career in 1987 with the Fleet Financial Group in Greenwich, becoming an assistant portfolio manager and then a portfolio manager. Later he joined JPMorgan Chase as a senior portfolio manager and currently is a managing director at North Star Wealth Investors, LLC in Darien. He and his wife Bina have one son and live in Stamford, where he is a member of the Rotary Club and the World Affairs Forum. He enjoys hiking, travel, kayaking, photography, pastel drawing, singing, meditation, and stamp and coin collecting.

Summertime Reminders

Tony Kwedar reports that the bridge players have decided to take the summer off and will not get together during July and August.

Ed Mulock says the computers will be turned off July and August, and the screens will go dark. There will be no meetings until September. In the meantime, the group will meet during May and June at the Mather Center, 10 a.m. on Tuesdays.

Full House at Recent Meeting

Coffee and pastries draw most everyone to the back of the meeting room.

Mianus River Park Hike

Photo by Taylor Strubinger

Pomrance Park Hike

Photo by Harvey Mogenson

Darien Men's Association Newsletter

Editor, Ray Meurer. New member photos, Michael Poler. Assistant, Taylor Strubinger. Art work, Tom Glover. Mailing labels, Frank Kemp. Photo credits this issue, Gregory Glashan, Harvey Mogenson, Gary Banks, Taylor Strubinger, John Kammerman